

Common greetings you can easily master are:

Arabic	English Translation
S-salamo alikum	Peace on you. Always said when entering a place where others are present.the response is Wa alikum S-salam.
Sbah I-khir	Good morning
Mssa I-khir	Good afternoon or evening
Tsbah ala khir	Good night.literally 'get up happy'
Ahlan wa sahlam	General friendly greeting
Mrahba	welcome
La bas? La bas alik?	How are you? How are you doing?
La bas	I'm good
Ash khbark?	What's new ? what's up?

Key words

Arabic	English
La	No
Naam	yes(formal)
Iyah , Wah	Yes (informal), Wah is used mostly in the north
Bezzaf	Many, a lot, very, too much
Shwia	A little, few
Mezian	Good
Shnu, Ashnu, Ash	What?
Shkoun?	Who?
Shhal?	How much? How many?
Imta? Foqash?	when?
Fin?	Where?
Kif? Kifash?	how?
Alash?	why?
mashi	not
Kayn	There is
Ma-kayn-sh	There isn't
Wakha	Ok

Godspeak

Arabic	English translation
Bi-smillah	In the name of God. said before beginning any activity,especially drinking, eating and driving or so.
hamdullah/ alhamdo-lillah	Thanks to be to God. To express thanks for any benefit or blessing.
Allah iaaoun	God help you,said to people whom are working or studying, but also it used as goodbye.
tbark -allah-alik	God bless you.
Baraka-allaho-fik	God's bless on you. Usually a very polite or sincere 'Thank you'
Allah-irham-alwalidin	God bless your parents. Use for please or a grateful Thank you.
Allah yatik saha	God give you health the response to 'bssaha' Said if you got a new thing or after done eating.
Allah ikhlef	God reward you.used after finishing a meal when someone invited you over.
Allah-issalmk	God make you safe. Used as a response to 'ala slama' which means welcome back.
Insha-allah	If God wills. Said in order to remove any certainty about the future.